

Dynatrace digital badges

Reward and recognition for your certifications

Earning a Dynatrace certification isn't easy, so we believe your time, effort, and commitment to success should be recognized by the world.

Fact Sheet

You earned it, now show it off!

Dynatrace certifications and skills are recognized, respected and valued throughout the industry, and now when you complete a Dynatrace certification you can easily and quickly share verified proof wherever and whenever you choose.

Stand out amongst your peers and competition

You can share your professional story on social media and professional networking sites, personal websites, or embedded in your email signature.

What is a digital badge?

We've teamed up with Acclaim to award digital badges for Dynatrace certifications. The badges are web-enabled representations of your Dynatrace certifications, which means when someone views your badge, they'll be able to learn more about your skills and verify its authenticity — ensuring only you can take credit for your skills.

- Web-enabled version of your credential that can be shared online
- A single-source that combines your credentials and provides a complete overview of your skills
- Trusted method for real-time credential verification

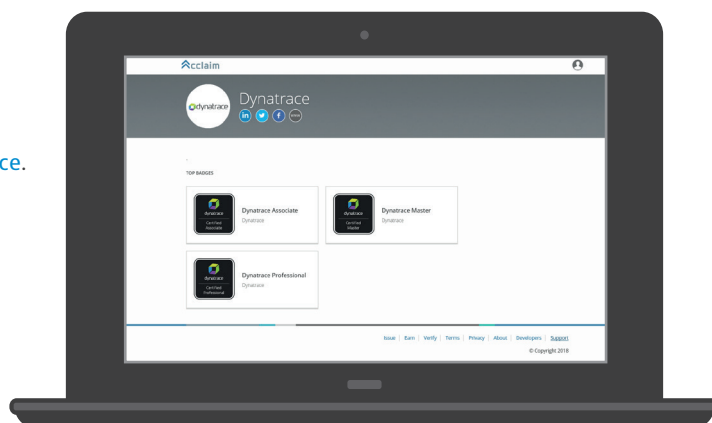

How it works

- An email to claim your digital badge will be automatically sent to you upon successful completion of any level certification
- There is NO cost to receive or maintain a badge
- You can manage and share (or not!) your badge
- You can import/export your badge to badging authority systems

How to claim your badge

Following your examination, you will receive an email inviting you to claim your badge at Acclaim's website, youracclaim.com/org/dynatrace.

- 1) Click the link in the email
- 2) Create an account on the Acclaim site and confirm your email
- 3) Claim your badge
- 4) Start sharing!
